

Port Phillip Estate Salasso Rosé 2016 – Reviews

James Halliday Australian Wine Companion 2018

Ned Goodwin MW

Salmon-pink with the barest hint of copper, this is racy, dry, exhilarating rose, fermented naturally in a combination of used barrels. A blend of 69% pinot noir and 31% shiraz, this provides thrills with a chill! Sweet and sour red fruits pop across the mouth, all strung across a bow of crunchy acidity, mineral timbre and tangy orange zest lifting the finish.

The colour is somewhat forward-developed light pink, the bouquet pinot-esque and developed with some meaty notes. It's light, lean and pared-back with drive and persistence. Barrel work adds to flavour complexity and enhances texture. Very smart.

It's soft and fleshy with freeze dried strawberries, rosehip, nuts and a little spice, perhaps some blackcurrant and herb too. Light to medium bodied, flows along beautifully with its smooth delivery of flavour, freshened with a little blood orange tang, savoury and gently chalky with a dry and vinous finish of fine length. Top shelf.
