

Port Phillip Estate Red Hill Pinot Noir 2018 – Reviews

The Wine Front, March 2019

Campbell Mattinson

Frisky style, light in colour too, but satiny to the touch. The palate has an attractive tension. Cherries, cranberries, leafy spice and musk. Impeccable. Delicious. Juicy. Everything in its right place. For now or later.

93+ points