

KOORYONG

Clonale by Kooyong 2018 – Reviews

James Halliday Australian Wine Companion 2020

David Bicknell

Controlled, restrained and composed. Green apple, peach skin, white nectarine seamlessly interwoven, all contributing. Plus there is a lick of milk bottle top and spice from oak, adding complexity and interest. Neat and expertly tailored.

94 points

Wine of the Week, February 2019

Winsor Dobbin

Calling all lovers of Chablis. If you are finding your fresh, citrus/mineral favourite increasingly expensive then here is a very good Australian alternative from Kooyong on the Mornington Peninsula. There is a floral/talcum powder nose leading on to an impressive intensity and acidity on the palate. Think pithy mandarin and grapefruit, hints of ripe stone fruits, with just a hint of nuttiness. Wonderfully fresh and beguiling. My bet is you'll empty the bottle quick smart.