

Port Phillip Estate Morillon Pinot Noir 2018 – Reviews

WineFront, February 2020

Campbell Mattinson

Excellent flow and flavour. White peach mostly but with chalk, cream, honeysuckle and toasty, flinty cedar wood. It has good volume but still manages to feel elegant, particularly through the back half. It's good now and it will develop nicely over the next handful of years.

93+ points