

Kooyong Meres Pinot Noir 2018 – Reviews

---

WineFront, March 2020

Campbell Mattinson

Single vineyard pinot noir. Mornington Peninsula. Well known, well loved. Lovely length, aided by fine fingers of tannin. I could give this 92 or 96 or anywhere in-between and sleep easy with any of them. The sweet-sour flavours of this year's release mean that Meres doesn't have its usual meaty oomph but I don't mind it this way, in fact I probably prefer it.

Classic and quite fine profile here, with red and dark fruits and a brush of graphite and spice, too. There's a crackle of woodsmoke, with gentle whole bunch accenting subtle oak notes. This has quite a sour/wild red fruit autumnal thing going on, with a tension between ripeness and nervy cool-toned fruit working in fine balance. This is a refined and elegant expression, with ample underlying flavour, and it will benefit with more time in bottle.
