

KOORYONG

Kooyong Estate Pinot Noir 2020 – Reviews

The WineFront, December 2021

Gary Walsh

Strawberry, and strawberry jam, a slightly minty and gum litter perfume, light cedar oak, rosehip tea and spice. It's light, slightly smoky, crisp in acidity, with a feathering of tannin, a bit sappy/twiggly/autumnal to taste, with redcurrant and cranberry on a frisky finish of solid length, a little emery tannin grip as it goes. Quite dry, a nice wine.

Aromatic, lifted, wild strawberry, sap, spice, pot-pourri, briary and woody—really evocative. Elegant, long, textured and layered. Red cherry, redcurrant, a touch of sap and cola. The acid has brightness and the tannins are supple and shapely.
