

Kooyong Haven Pinot Noir 2020 – Reviews

Wine Pilot, September 2022

As much as I loved the 2019 release of this wine, this one tops it. What a scintillating Pinot. It opens with strawberries as well as more savoury characters [including] dry herbs and leather. It moves to darker fruits like black cherries, mulberries and plums. A silky palate and even silkier tannins and terrific length. Sumptuous now but such a promising future, this should improve over the next 8 to 10 years. A wonderful Pinot!

Ruby-coloured with a touch of purple, medium intensity of hue. It smells aromatic with cherry, strawberry, herbal and earthy elements. A whisper of gamey reduction adds dimension. The palate is middleweight, perfumed and lush, with length and harmony, ahead of soft tannins. A deliciously satiny wine.
