

Kooyong Haven Pinot Noir 2021 – Reviews

Halliday Wine Companion, May 2023

Jane Faulkner

One of the lightest Havens both in colour (a translucent yet bright ruby) and flavour, yet plenty to like. Earthy, spicy and peppery with rhubarb and cherries, chinotto and blood orange zest with an alluring Italian bitter herb flavour. Plenty of tannins and acidity taking care of each other and in time, this will mellow well.

Subtle and complex with layers of fresh raspberry and strawberry with a substantial dusting of herbs and spices. Fine-boned, it delivers refined layers of red berry and rose petals with wafts of charcuterie and spice emerging on a delicately framed finish.

Red fruit, a little squishy, almond, mint and cranberry. Medium-bodied, well, light even, fine emery tannin, cranberry, amaro and fresh flavours, with lively finish of good length. Charming. Delicate. Really good.
