

Quartier Pinot Noir 2023 – Reviews

A wine that delivers good Pinot in an approachable, juicy, and affable, style. Strawberry, raspberry, a little cut green capsicum and spice, some rosy perfume. It's juicy and lively, oak seems to be a very minor part of the wine (good), and it's all about red fruit, supple tannin, a little bit of sap and greenery in the mix, with a gently dusty finish of good length. It's clean and fresh, and for pure enjoyment.

Nothing fancy, just a decent drink full of red cherries and spice, squishy raspberries and a dash of pepper with fresh herbs and a little charred radicchio. Mid-weighted (just), the tannins light and the acidity soft. The palate is giving, juicy and while it falls short on the finish, this satisfies, nonetheless.
