

Port Phillip Estate Salasso Rosé 2024 – Reviews

---

The WineFront, February 2025 - Bottle

Redcurrant and rosehip with a flicker of aniseed. It's a little nutty, blood orange with a slight amaro tang, along with some more meaty and umami flavours, and a finish of good length.

A brighter pink flamingo colour than the bottle. It's juicy, bright and crisp, carries some spritz, almost sherbety, redcurrant, fresh strawberry and blood orange, a gentle grip of powdery tannin, with a lively finish of good length. A bit of an electric feel to it, and so refreshing and thirst quenching. It pops. Delicious. Go the can! Fun and kind of naughty.
